

Can you identify this condition?

Vimal Prajapati Benjamin Barankin MD FRCPC

An 82-year-old woman presents with multiple rough, scaly, ill-defined erythematous papules and plaques on her nose, cheeks, and forehead. The lesions occur on a background of sun-damaged skin.

The most likely diagnosis is

1. Seborrheic keratosis
2. Actinic keratosis
3. Seborrheic dermatitis
4. Basal cell carcinoma
5. Poikiloderma

Answer on page 699